To Whom It May Concern:

Last year we had the privilege of the NYCO chamber group coming to our school to present Hansel and Gretel.

The presentation began with a lively discussion of the different instruments. Students were very engaged and excited to ask questions about each one. The highlight of this was when the bassoon player inflated a glove at the end of his bassoon using his breath!

The music itself was lovely and played beautifully. It was a special opportunity for many students in our school who have never been to a musical concert of any kind. The Hansel and Gretel story was also read along with it which added an extra level of interest for the students.

We were all delighted to have the NYCO chamber group as our guests. With such low school budgets it is hard to get opportunities like this for our students. We are very grateful to any donors who are able to make such an enriching program possible, and we hope that NYCO can come again to our school soon.

Sincerely,
